FRAUDULENT PRACTICES

- Scammers are contacting people claiming to be tracing COVID-19 contacts. While legitimate health agencies, including the Cuyahoga County Board of Health and the Cleveland Department of Public Health, are calling people to complete contact tracing, they will never ask for your Social Security number or bank account information. - Price gouging is when a business or other sellers drastically raises the price of an item that is temporarily in short supply, as toilet paper and surgical masks currently are. In Ohio, a state law bans unconscionable sales practices, which would include price gouging even though the law doesn't define what constitutes gouging. For more information, see this press release. If you believe a business is charging unfair prices, contact the Ohio Attorney General's Office at www.OhioProtects.org or 1-800-282-0515.

- Medicare urges you to stay alert for fraud during the coronavirus national emergency because scammers like to take advantage of people when they're distracted. Remember that Medicare will never contact you for your Medicare number or other personal information unless you've given them permission in advance. You can't be enrolled over the phone unless you called Medicare first. And never, ever give out your Medicare number. Report anything suspicious to Medicare by calling 1-800-MEDICARE. And learn how to spot fraud.
